

BIO

I graduated from Loyalist College as an electronic technician and then from Laval University with a Bachelor of Science in Engineering. I worked for Nortel for nearly 20 years - 17 in Belleville and a three year stint in Ottawa. Even while working in Ottawa, I maintained my home in Belleville and spent weekends here.

Genevieve and I have been season ticket holders at the Pinnacle Playhouse for 23 years and members of the Architectural Conservancy of Ontario for 20 years. We own a house within walking distance of downtown

Before I had a car, I lived near downtown and walked everywhere as most essential services were available nearby. It is my belief that a community where cars are optional is healthier.

STANLEY'S STANCES

VOTE STANLEY JONES

FISCAL SUSTAINABILITY

Belleville's property taxes are among the highest in Ontario*. We need to develop and implement long range plans to bring our taxes in line with other municipalities and maintain that level.

Funds entrusted to public servants belong to the citizens. We need to be fiscally responsible when we plan to upgrade our aging infrastructure.

ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSIBILITY

Outward expansion for development diminishes our non renewable resource of agricultural land. We need to encourage infill and brown-field redevelopment.

A healthy city encourages people to walk and bike. We need more bike and walking paths linking to the existing trails through the city.

PROGRESSIVE DEVELOPMENT

Belleville has a beautiful waterfront and we need to continue to develop it. The riverside parking lot is not the best use for that prime property. The Downtown has much to offer and when rejuvenated will promote more business on Front Street and along the Moira river. People live downtown in a vibrant city.

VIBRANT ECONOMY

When residents participate in the Arts they become engaged with their City.

Belleville has many heritage buildings but unfortunately some of them are not being maintained. Tax rebates for vacant buildings should be contingent on the properties being properly maintained.
